When I was younger people would say kids grow up too fast. "Take the time with them while you have it because before you know it, that time will be gone." As I watch my boys change so quickly, I recognize the truth of that sentiment. Joel is ready to begin his sophomore year; Ben is ready to start 7th grade. When we moved here, they were both elementary boys who needed a babysitter and sang in the kid's choir. Now they are independent young men. Alicia and I realize that our time of daily influence in their lives is shorter than we would like to admit.

As I study the Gospels, I see a recurring theme of rest in the life of Jesus. Time and again he would seclude himself to reflect, pray, and be renewed for ministry. When John the Baptist was put to death in Mark 6, Jesus called his disciples away because they were so overwhelmed with ministry that they didn't have time to stop for a meal. But they were followed by the crowds which lead to the feeding of the 5000. So Jesus sent them away again to the other side of the lake. The last thing that Jesus did before his trial and crucifixion was seclude himself in the garden. Ministry is hard work and requires rest and time alone to pray and re-center.

When I look at my growing boys and consider these scriptures, I recognize that it is time for me to rest. I have been in full time ministry for 7 years and have served this Annual Conference for a total of 12 years. Alicia and the boys have made many sacrifices along the way, understanding that ministry is a life calling, not an occupation. And while I cannot imagine doing anything else, the stress and busyness of ministry can be heavy for myself and my family.

So I write to let you know that I have requested and been granted renewal leave this summer. Renewal leave is an extended, intentional time of rest away from ministry. Throughout Scripture there are many 40 day experiences, and I will be having my own 40 days of rest and renewal this July. We are headed out west to see God's handiwork- the Grand Canyon, Yellowstone, and many places in between. When we return home the first Sunday in August, I hope to be refreshed and renewed for the years of ministry that are ahead.

And while we are gone, you won't want to miss worship with guest preachers that will include our new District Superintendent Rev. Brad Smart, Rev. Jim Powell, and others. I trust that you will pray for us while we are gone as we will for all of you. We will miss you and look forward to August when we are all back together again.

My Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

After our Memorial Day holiday, I always feel so blessed to be an American. Well, I actually feel that way all year long. It is just that this holiday reminds me of what a wonderful, God blessed country that we live in. It made me think of how blessed we are to be able to fulfill God's commandment that we go to the ends of the earth to tell and show people about God's love and bring them into a loving relationship with Him. I know that is what your Costa Rica team does every trip.

Mary Woods is in Alabama to celebrate her granddaughter's graduation from Auburn University, as well as her marriage. I was blessed to talk with Mary on May 15 while she was in Alabama. Her Costa Rica construction crew had been building a very primitive building where Pastor Walter has been holding church services outside of Pital. As a matter of fact, he is even going to hold a revival there next week. What wonderful news that was! I tell you this story because it shows that people are hungry for the Good News! This is one of the multitude of things that your money makes possible. We thought that we would have been building this structure when the team was there, but there were other pressing needs.

Mary also spoke of the financial struggles she is having since Marion has gone to heaven. Part of the money they used for ministry was his Social Security check. We are exploring the idea of building a swimming pool at the farm to increase the number of groups that use the facilities there, thus increasing money for mission work. Please be in prayer about this. Any funds that you wish to donate go directly to the mission work. As always, please keep Mary and the mission lifted up in your prayers.

One other item that Mary told me was that on Easter Sunday 8 children were baptized at the Pital church. She thought all of these children came from the direct results of the feeding program.

I have secured 15 airline tickets for the 2019 trip. The cost will be $1200.00 per person. I will need a deposit of $100.00 each by June 25, 2018 to hold your place on the team. Please pray about being a part of God's work in Costa Rica.

Thanks so very much for your prayers and support for this mission.

In His Love and Service

Eduardo
